Greater Noida is a planned township situated in proximity to the India's Capital city, Delhi and falls within the NCR region and is adjacent to Noida, the first industrial township in Asia. It is a township developed on the outskirts of NOIDA. If Noida boasts of a vigorous growth as far as real estate is concerned, Greater Noida tops the chart in real estate development.

Greater Noida with its better connectivity and plans to build an international airport and connectivity by Metro Railway, undoubtedly makes it best investment destination.
