Bahadurgarh in the state of Haryana, India, is the upcoming NCR of NEW DELHI, capital of INDIA. Bahadurgarh is coming up like Gurgaon & Faridabad and is the fastest developing Town in the NCR region. Located to the west of Delhi near Tikri on the National Highway Number 10 is gaining popularity as a residential locale and has four residential sectors developed by Haryana Urban Development Authority HUDA. Surrounded by lush greenery, well connected to Delhi via road and rail network and will be connected by metro which is being built by Delhi Metro Rail Corporation (DMRC) in few years.

Several industries like, Hindusthan National Glass, Hindware, Somany Tiltes, Parle, SURYA have there setup in Bahadurgarh. Its uniqueness lies in the fact that it retains its small town charm while being stone's throw from Delhi. With all these uniqueness and neighborhood of Delhi nothing can stop it to become 'bahadur' which is Bahadurgarh.
